NO MURDER DEVELOPMENTS

ALTHOUGH SEVERAL DETECTIVES AND THE LOCAL OFFICERS ARE WORKING ON SOME CLEWS NOTHING OF ANY IMPORTANCE HAS TURNED UP TO SOLVE THE MYSTERY OF THE KILLING OF OTIS HENDREN.

CHARLEY SIMS STILL IN JAIL

Prisoner Seems Very Nervous Whenever Case is Mentioned and Cannot Account for His Actions on the Night of the Killing—Fillmore Clew Last Night Resulted in Nothing.

Although several detectives have been employed by the interurban company to work on the Hendren murder case nothing of any importance has been developed which in any way clears up the mystery of the Monday night tragedy. Several detectives from Indianapolis and Lafayette have been here in the last thirty-six hours and have followed up every clew they could get hold of. Some of the clews have been found to be valuable and others are still being investigated.

On account of the mystery in the case the identity of the detectives is being kept secret. One of them said this morning that the case was one of the hardest to solve that he had ever worked on but that he had several clews, one of which might develop into a case.

Blue Handkerchief a Clew.

The local police are also working on the case to the best of their ability and possibly may dig up something. Marshal Reeves has in his possession a dark blue handkerchief which was found in the interurban station. He is attempting to learn where the handkerchief was purchased in hopes that the identity of its owner may develop a clew. The marshal visited all of the local stores this morning but was unable to trace the ownership of the handkerchief.

The handkerchief was found in the ticket office of the station immediately after the murder was committed. Mrs. Hendren was shown the handkerchief and says that it did not belong to her husband. If the ownership of the handkerchief can be established it may result in a good clew.

This afternoon Marshal Reeves and one of the detectives working on the case went to Brazil to investigate a clew there.

Last night Marshal Reeves and Officer Stone went to Fillmore and later to Coatesville in answer to a telephone call stating that a man answering the description of the man who is believed to have committed the murder was seen walking east on the Vandalla tracks. They went to Amo and walked back to Coatesville on the Van tracks, but did not find the man.

Sims Still in Custody.

Charley Sims, who was arrested yesterday, is still in jail. Sims, the officers say, appears very nervous whenever they talk to him regarding the case. It is said that he was not at his home on Monday night and that he cannot account for his actions during the night. He is being held on the charge of intoxication and probably will be held for several days awaiting developments.

Several sensational rumors regarding the murder are current today. One of them links the name of Mrs. Hendren's divorced husband, in the case. There is little ground for the rumor, however.

SLASHED CONDUCTOR

OR WITH RAZOR

The killing of Otis Hendren has brought out the story of an assault on Interurban Conductor Powell several days ago. Powell says that he was attacked at near 8 o'clock one evening as he was on his way home from the station by two men who sprang out of the alley between the residence of A. E. Harris and U. V. O'Daniel on East Seminary Street.

They grabbed him and one of them slashed across the chest with a razor. His coat and shirt were cut. As they grabbed him one of them exclaimed, "We've got him now." Powell struck one of the men and knocked him down. When he showed fight the two men ran.

Mr. Powell and Mr. Hendren are similar in appearance and many believe that the men believed they were attacking Hendren when they got Powell. Why Powell did not report the affair to the police at the time it happened is something that many cannot understand. Powell lives on Bloomington Street between Seminary and Anderson.

ROUSING MEETING IS ASSURED

State Senator L. Ert Slack of Franklin will address the Bryan and Kern Club in the Assembly Room of the court house at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Mr. Slack is an eloquent speaker and a rousing meeting is assured. Mr. Slack is leader of the minority in the Upper House of the State Legislature and is one of the most brilliant Democratic speakers of the state.

Mr. Slack will arrive in Greencastle at 6:35 on the Interurban limited. The ladies are especially invited to attend tonight's meeting. All of the issues of the campaign will be thoroughly discussed.

ARE RUSHING PREPARATIONS

Committee Responsible for the Hospital Fair Spend Busy Day in Making All Ready for Tomorrow

MANY GIFTS ALREADY RECEIVED

All things point to a most successful Hospital Fair. The weather seems inclined to be kind, gifts are coming in rapidly, committees are working enthusiastically. Today was a busy one for all concerned in the work. Booths were being put up at various places, gifts sorted and as much as possible of the labor of tomorrow lightened. In this connection the president of the association wishes it to be remembered that in case gifts can not be brought in on Wednesday, they will be gladly received at any time during the fair.

All the committees were feeling jubilant over the situation today and prophesying all manner of good things for the fair. Of course some of the plans have failed. For instance, after the most strenuous use of the telephone it was found impossible to secure a merry-go-round. But with so many other fun-creating attractions this will hardly be missed.

The fair will begin tomorrow at 10 o'clock and it is believed that it will go with a rush from the first hour. All are asked to come out and help push along this most needed philanthropy.

He will immediately take up the duties of the late Otis Hendren, who was murdered while in discharge of his duty at the station on Monday night.

DEMOCRATS AT CLINTON FALLS

Speaking There Tuesday Night Heard by Good Crowd With Much Interest—School House Well Filled.

A crowd of the voters and ladies of Clinton Township that filled all the seats and much of the standing room of the school house at Clinton Falls heard F. C. Tilden, candidate for joint senator, discuss some of the issues of the campaign Tuesday night. The evening was exceedingly cold, and that so many came out was illustrative of the interest taken in the political situation. James P. Hughes, candidate for prosecuting attorney was also present and addressed the meeting.

ALL BIDS TURNED DOWN

City Council Decides That the Contractors Were Too High in Their Prices and the Improvement of Walnut Street and Taylor Avenue Is Delayed.

WERE $500 OVER-ESTIMATED

The special session of the city council called last night to let contracts for the improvement of Walnut Street and Taylor Avenue did not let the contracts. The reason was that the contractors were too high in their bids.

Although there were three contractors to send bids all were entirely too high. The bids were about $500 higher than the estimated cost which was figured out by the city engineer. The bids were all turned down and it was agreed that new bids for the work be received by the council at their meeting on October 15. The time set for the completion of the work is June 1.

Following are the bids and bidders turned down last night:

Walnut Street.

Elbert Ragle$3009.22
 D. R. Reichards 2920.54
 Dillard Artise 2913.90

Taylor Avenue.

Elbert Ragle$1066.23
 D. R. Reichards 1199.54
 Dillard Artise 1100.45

The city engineer reported that the improvement work on Park, Anderson and Larabee Streets had been completed and the council set next Tuesday afternoon as the time to inspect the work.

WAS ALL IN PROPORTION

County Auditor Moffett Carries a Watch That Reveals His Belief in The Eternal Fitness of Things.

Whether or no D. V. Moffett, the jovial auditor of Putnam County, is an artist we can not say. We have seen proof, however, that he has remarkable delicacy of feeling for harmony, not of sound but of proportion. Now Mr. Moffett is a man of solidity and substance and weighs well over the two hundred pound mark. He has felt, at times, that for such a man to carry and use a small gold watch was a thing out of proportion and not a harmonious whole, but lacked means to correct the artistic evil. Yesterday he had the chance and took advantage of it.

Mr. Moffett's watch needed repairs and he left it with a jeweler for treatment. In selecting one to carry for a day or so to take the place of his own property he found one that satisfied his idea of the fitness of things in every way. It is a watch made in France. It weighs something near a pound, and is fully three and a half inches across. When he draws it from his pocket it stands out boldly in view, and is not lost in the hollow of his hand. It has a tick like the college clock, and is altogether a watch fit for a man. Mr. Moffett's idea of harmony is satisfied.

GRAND JURY IS SUMMONED

Judge Rawley Issues Order That This Body Meet on Next Monday For the Consideration of Such Cases as May Come Before it.

The Putnam County Grand Jury will meet for its regular duties on Monday, October the fifth. Judge Rawley today issued an order for the summoning of the jury and the subpoenas were issued today. It is not probable that the session will last long. There are few cases to be investigated, and none of importance.

The jury as drawn will consist of James Vanlandingham, Greencastle tp., Oliver G. Evans, Greencastle tp., Oscar W. Obenchain, Greencastle tp., Clarence Perkins, Jackson tp., Sanford Bales, Russell tp., Sam G. Nelson, Monroe tp.

EXCHANGE GIRLS HAVE PARTY

A number of the "hello" girls were entertained at the home of Miss Helen Leachman last night. The party was of the "slumber" variety and included a midnight lunch and late breakfast. Music and a general good time were the order of the night's entertainment. The following girls were present: Misses Mary Howard, Hazel Williams, Edna Wells, Nona Bastin, Jennie and Bessie Crawley, Ella Bowman, Goldie Kauffman and Olus Wright.

City Attorney Peck stated this morning that Edmund B. In his suit Mr. Lynch asks an injunction and damages.

No definite arrangement or a settlement was made. Mr. Lynch simply told the city attorney that he would do what was right in the matter provided the flow of sewage upon his land was stopped immediately. Mr. Peck and the Street Commissioner have already seen many of those

Rule of the People.

Republican papers all over the state are declaring that the passage of the county local option law is an example of the rule of the people. While admitting that many people of the state did want county local option, we are, nevertheless, unable to see any victory for the people in the methods used to pass the bill. As a matter of fact the question had been left to the people to decide. They were to vote upon the proposition at the coming elections. Instead of allowing the people to express themselves the Republican party forced the issue, compelled a number of their own party to vote against their beliefs, even as the Republican party at Washington compelled members of the party to vote for the ship subsidy bill, Aldrich-Vreeland currency bill, and in the same manner that Uncle Joe Cannon smothered the Littlefield bill on interstate shipments of liquor from wet to dry territory. The passage of the bill as it stands was the triumph of machine politics, not of the will of the people. The bill itself was, we hope, good. That is, it will be good if it succeeds in doing what it promises, which only time can tell. But it is not a triumph of the people. It is a case of the Republican party deciding what the people want and giving it to them without waiting to see whether they are really in favor of it or not. It is a trick learned from "Uncle Joe" who holds that the people never do know what is good for them, and that they should never be listened to. Again we say that the law is no triumph of the people, but a triumph of machine politics on the part of a party struggling for mere existence because of its record, wishing to use the law for political purposes, careless whether it accomplishes results or not, and unwilling to wait for the people to express themselves on the party and the question at the polls.

We are quite sure that the strain of the campaign is telling on President Roosevelt for his latest effort to justify the making public of campaign funds after election sounds like softening of the brain. The president says in substance that contributions should not be made public till after election for the reason that should on honest corporation contribute a few hundred thousands to the Republican fund, the knowledge of this might lead biased persons to vote against the party. Of course the emphasis is on "honest corporations". We wonder if any corporation giving a hundred thousand to a campaign fund is honest. We believe the president is right in supposing that such things made public would influence many votes. It is the very thing we want to know. We are surprised that the president should be reduced to such reasoning in defense of what is not defensible.

HOW TO GET STRONG
 P. J. Daly, of 1247 W. Congress street, Chicago tells of a way to become strong. He says: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters, that I feel it's my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and kidney complaints.  "Ah, this is dreadful!" said his wife sobbingly. "You used to tell me I was your queen."
 "Yes," rejoined her spouse, "but when a man finds that his queen has used his best tobacco jar for pale oak varnish and his meerschaum pipe for a tack hammer he begins to grasp the advantages of a republic!"—Philadelphia Inquirer.

DEMOCRATIC NEWS

Democrats, Be On Your Guard.

On last Monday evening the Chronicle of this city printed alleged interviews with about fifty saloon keepers of Marion and Grant Counties, in which it made these said liquor dealers say in substance that they were all opposed to the election of "Jim" Watson for governor, as it would mean the ruin of their business. They were also made to say that they favored the election of Tom Marshall for governor, as it meant the salvation of their business.

On Tuesday the Leader called upon these saloon keepers and in every instance the interviews in the Chronicle were pronounced as forgeries. Not one liquor dealer in Marion could be found who had uttered one word to that paper or any other paper on the subject of state politics.

The object of the Chronicle in printing these bogus interviews with liquor dealers is very plain. It is expected that temperance Democrats of the state can be reached by such deception.

Seventy-five per cent of the saloon keepers misquoted are Republicans and are loud in their denunciation of such dirty politics.

On Tuesday of this week this same Chronicle had printed 25,000 copies of their issue of last Monday containing the bogus interviews. There were shipped to the Republican state headquarters at Indianapolis for distribution over the State of Indiana. Not satisfied by trying to betray their own party workers in Grant County, the Chronicle, with the assistance of the state Republican organization, now desires to fool the people of Indiana.

Democrats everywhere in the state should be on their guard.

Watch for the Marion Chronicle of last Monday with the bogus interviews from saloon keepers.

Crush this deception wherever it shows itself.

Desperate indeed, must be the straits the Republican national committee is in when it appeals to the president of the United States to ruffle the dignity of his high office and engage in the whirl and turmoil of a political campaign to save its candidate from defeat. There is a dignity which doth hedge about a king, and Americans who believe the presidency a more exalted office than any kingship the world ever knew cannot but feel regret to see the occupant of that high position descend to bandy words and shout accusations and hurl billingsgate at all who oppose his chosen successor. There are many things in the character of Theodore Roosevelt which challenge our admiration, some characteristics we have been disposed to look upon leniently, some things which did not meet with our approval. But no American has, we hope, forgotten to reverence the high office he held. Yet when the president himself forgets the dignity due to his position and plunges ruthlessly into the mire of political denunciation and recrimination like a Bowery boss nothing else can be expected but that the common people will lose respect for the office as well as for the man. Mr. Roosevelt's resort to the verbal pugilism of a political wrangle.—Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette.

His Preference.
 A certain well known statesman of the past drank too much. And one Fourth of July morning on a platform hung with flags and flowers before the courthouse of a western country town, facing an audience of farmers and their families that had come from miles around, the statesman arose to deliver the Independence day oration in a slightly intoxicated state. He was not incapable of an oration, but his unsteady gait, his flushed face and disordered attire spoke ill of him, and the audience hissed and booed. He held up his hand. They were silent. Then he laughed scornfully and said: "Ladies and gentlemen, when a statesman of my prominence consents to appear in such a little one horse town as this he must be either drunk or crazy. I prefer to be considered an inebriate."—Washington Star.

SHERMAN ACCEPTS BLAME

Republican Vice Presidential Candidate Drawn Out by Congressman De Armond.

On the word of James Schoelcraft Sherman, Republican vice presidential candidate, full responsibility for congress' failure to enact many needed laws must be assumed by the Republican party.

April 8, 1908, in the house, as printed in the Congressional Record, Representative David A. De Armond, of Missouri, said:

"When the question is asked anywhere in the country—and it will be asked—why was not this measure considered, why was not that measure passed, why was not the other measure brought up? there is one answer, and only one: Because the Republican majority in this house willed that it should not be considered, should not be brought up, should not be passed. We can stand upon that record. It is well known that there is pressure in the country, and very great pressure, for the consideration and passage of a number of important measures. It is well known that a large majority of the voting strength of the country is insistent upon the consideration and the passage of important measures. Do not go to them again, as you have done so often and so successfully, and endeavor to delude them into the belief that somehow you could not get consideration for the measure and somehow you could not pass it. You can have consideration, because you have the power to enforce it; and, so far as meritorious measures are concerned, as has been demonstrated here more than once and will be demonstrated again, and abundantly demonstrated, you have only to express 'he will, you have only to give the opportunity, and if you lack the votes upon that side, as you do not, there will be an abundant addition here.'"

Sherman Admits It.
 The same day, replying, Mr. Sherman said:

"The gentleman from Missouri intimates that the Republican side of the house desires to do away with the roll calls because of some fear of making a record upon some question before the house. Mr. Speaker, the Republican party in this house, the Republican party in this nation, is prepared today to accept full responsibility, not only for everything that is done, but for that which is not done in the way of legislation and administration. [Applause on the Republican side.] We recognize the fact, sir, that this government today is Republican in all its branches. We recognize the fact that we have a Republican president, brave, wise, and courageous. We recognize that we have a Republican majority in the senate, that we have a Republican majority in this house that is ready to resort to every legal, every proper constitutional right to enact such legislation as it deems for the best interest for the greatest number of our people, and which is willing and ready to accept full responsibility for all those measures which are introduced here and which are enacted into law."

MR. SHAW ON SOUP HOUSES.

Points Out Workless Laborers and Engineless Cars—Former Secretary Talks.

Former Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, in Michigan last spring, made interesting comment on panics as follows:

"Over 300,000 freight cars standing empty on the tracks; 8,000 locomotives out of commission; one-quarter of the population of several large cities idle, and for the first time in a Republican administration, free soup houses."

Hide Must Go With the Hair.

In Secretary Shaw's case, the "hide must go with the hair; that is, his comment on economic conditions must be taken "en semble," as the theatrical critics say. His soundness on bank guarantee must accompany equally sound opinion on other mooted questions. Now that Mr. Taft, against whom Mr. Shaw labored, has been nominated, Mr. Shaw might obtain leave to "extend his remarks in the record" and embellish his terse statement relative to soup houses.

He will easily overcome Democratic objection, and perhaps can get unanimous consent, under the rules.

FEDERAL USURPATION—SHAW.

Republican Financier-Cabinet Member Denounces Deal With Steel Trust Last October.

When the Trust Company of America, New York, was in trouble last October, a representative of the steel trust went to Washington and obtained consent of the administration for the trust to take over its chief competitor, the Tennessee Iron and Coal company, as the price of aiding the Trust Company of America. It was a combination in restraint of trade, a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Peculiar Proceeding.

Mr. Shaw thought this a peculiar proceeding, as shown by his speech before the National Electric Light association, May 23, 1908, when he said: "I have no hesitation in saying that this is the only first-class country in the world where permission could have been obtained from the executive department of the government. Anywhere else such a request would have been answered, 'Go consult your lawyer.'"

OBITUARY

Emily Beard King.

Emily Beard King, was born in Vigo county, Indiana, April 4, 1855, died September 15, 1908, age 55 years, 5 months and 11 days. She was united in marriage to Charlie King, December 7, 1871, to this union were born four children, Benjamin P. Delena R. Terrie B. and Ceral B.

She leaves to mourn her lost her husband and two children, two sisters. Several grandchildren and relatives. The family and friends did everything in their power but in vain she was called to cross the dark river of death.

Farewell, dear mother, thou has left us to join the Angels, but we will try to live as thou did, true and faithful that we may meet thee again.

How sad it is to see dear ones taken away.

Indeed to look upon that vacant chair, but we should all live in such a manner that we shall meet her. We must not feel that she is dead, for we are taught that a woman's soul never dies. She is only waiting for us on that shining shore in the city of God.

Though her work on earth is ended her patient life will ever linger as a precious memory to inspire us to better living.

Sadly but submissively we bow to the Divine will and commend her to God's keeping, knowing that he doeth all things well. She had been a member of the Baptist church for sixteen years.

The funeral was conducted by Elder C. R. Collings of Belmont, Indiana at the Little Walnut church at 10:30 a. m. Burial at the Baptist cemetery.

A loving one from us is gone, A voice we loved is stilled; A place is vacant in our home, Which never can be filled.

God in his mercy hath recalled, The bloom the life was given And though the body molder here, The soul is safe in heaven.

We saw her suffer, heard her sighs, With throbbing hearts and weeping eyes, But now she calmly sleeps at last, All pain, all grief, all suffering past.

Habitual Criminals.

Most crimes—thiefs, burglaries, assaults, etc.—are committed by a small number of professional criminals. They adopt crime as a career. It is their means of livelihood. They are caught, sent to prison and return when they come out to the same lawless career.

They become so expert that they commit many crimes before they are caught. In prison they are artful hypocrites, becoming quite sanctimonious and earning good characters from the governor and chaplain in order to get out sooner.—Lloyd's News.

The Hurry Fad.
 "Mr. Cleveland," said a Princeton lecturer, "had little sympathy with the rush and hurry that the American business man so complacently affects—no sympathy with train and boat dilatation, with the lunch table telephone, the letter photograph and the other bluffs."

"Don't rush so," Mr. Cleveland once said to me. "Lightning might do a great deal more if it wasn't always in such an awful hurry."—Washington Star.

The More Notable.

"Which would you call more notable, the prima donna's debut or her farewell?"

"Her farewell. Wouldn't you?"

"Don't know that I would. She can make but one debut."

Mr. John White, of 38 Highland Ave., Houlton, Maine, says: "Have been troubled with a cough every winter and spring. Last winter I tried many advertised remedies, but the cough continued until I bought a 50c bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery; before that was half gone, the cough was all gone. This winter the same happy result has followed; a few doses once more banished the annual cough. I am now convinced that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best of all cough and lung remedies." "SPIKE" DATES COMPLETED

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE SORORITY FORMAL FUNCTIONS ARE MADE.

RULES ARE BEING OBSERVED

Vice-president Gobin has completed the list of dates for the various sorority "spiking" parties. The list is as follows:

Alpha Omicron Pi Oct 3
Alpha Phi Oct 5
Kappa Kappa Gamma Oct 8
Alpha Chi Omega Oct 10
Alpha Gamma Delta Oct 12
Kappa Alpha Theta Oct 15
Delta, Delta, Delta Oct 17

The hours will usually be from five o'clock to ten o'clock, although some of the sororities may elect to hold their parties earlier.

The spiking season will close on October 19, when written invitations will be sent by the sororities to their prospective candidates, inviting them to come to the respective chapter house. Each girl will be given a little time to deliberate, and consent to accompany a member of any sorority to her chapter house will be construed as an acceptance of the proposition of that sorority. No earrings will be used, and neither members nor candidates will talk "fraternity."

Meanwhile, dates with any one girl will be restricted to two a week, and no date can be made more than three days in advance. Refreshments can not be served during these informal dates.

STUDENTS GREET BEVERIDGE

"HELLO BOYS" SHOUTS THE DEPAUW MAN AS THE TRAIN STOPS.

REFERS TO FRANKLIN VICTORY

"Hello boys" with these words Albert J. Beveridge, senior senator of Indiana greeted a large crowd of students and football men and citizens at the Vandalla station yesterday afternoon. It was the keynote to his address, which was given as an alumnus of DePauw to his student brothers.

The senator spoke for eight minutes and in his inimitable manner based his address upon the theme of co-operation. He mentioned the recent victory of DePauw over Franklin in football, then showed how his alma never could have won unless they had played fairly. He emphasized co-operation as an element in success in all lines, pled for cleanliness in athletics, in politics and in business. The senator could not help from dropping a word to the students about studying, saying, "the man who ceases to study dies."

Frequently during the address the senator was interrupted by cheers, and as the train pulled away he called out amid much applause, "Good-bye boys, good-bye girls."

The senator was on his way to Terre Haute from Indianapolis on a political tour but he always has time to tarry at Greencastle. He is a man who seems to cherish much love for his alma mater and never Acquiring Philosophy.

A housekeeper who had rather a small stock of patience went into her kitchen one day to direct the preparation of dinner. She found George, her Japanese cook, poring over a book. "What are you reading?" she asked. "Schopenhauer," George replied. "Do you think you can understand such philosophy?" the mistress inquired. "Yes, honorable madam. I understand it. I apply it. When you come to tell me how to cook it is good to remember what the white man says about women. I read here, then I not mind what you say."—Bellman.

DEPAUW NEWS

IS WORKING ON DEFENSE

COACH BROWN INTENDS TO HAVE PROTEGES IN FAIR SHAPE BY SATURDAY.

"PREPS" FURNISH SCRIMMAGE

After working almost continually before the Franklin game to make his men get up speed against their opponents, the coach has devoted most of the time during the practice since Saturday's contest to building up a stone wall defense. Monday's practice was spent in sending the scrubs into varsity line while yesterday found the preps in scrimmage with the regulars still on the defense. As Indiana will have a heavy team, this defensive practice will undoubtedly be an important part of the daily workout in preparation for the game Saturday.

DePauw is putting little stock on the reports that Indiana is weak this year and the Old Gold team is working to put up some stiff work against a strong and heavy team. The men playing in the backfield are spending considerable time in practice at catching punts as that work may play an important part in a game with an efficient booter on the opposite side.

The weather is ideal for work on the gridiron and the coach and team are putting in some of the best ticks of the season's practice while the weather and the physical condition of the men are in such tip top shape.

Overman is still showing up well around the quarterback position in all its branches trying out his kicking toe with the rest of the work. Although his kicks do not equal the distance Grady has been booting this year continually, yet Overman seldom fails to make a consistent distance. Kanup too, is showing up well especially on defensive play.

The coach is making every man on the team fight for his place and is making every efficient man on the squad familiar with varsity speed and close in every practice. As there are an especially large number of good subs on the squad this fast practice may work out as especially useful when a substitute is a necessity at some time.

Miss Ruth Loop of Kokomo and Miss Helen O'Neil Sigmund of Crawfordsville will be guests at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house the latter part of the week.

FIGHT "SHORT CUTS"

Fence Has Been Built Across Path Near Dormitory.

The first attempt to eliminate "cut offs" across college property, was made yesterday when a fence was erected across a path leading from Locust Street to Anderson Street, just north of the dormitory. The fight against short cuts will be continued, according to Superintendent Cosner, who is aggressive in the matter.

who are draining sewage into the city tiles and have ordered them to discontinue doing so at once. A section, 20 feet long, of the city tile will be taken up on Walnut Street, just west of Jackson Street within a few days. This will be allowed to stand open for several weeks and the street commissioner and city officials will watch the sewage which passes through it. In this way they hope to learn if objectionable sewage is passing through and if they find any they will immediately make an effort to learn where it comes from and to see that it is discontinued.

Mr. Lynch agrees to a settlement on the understanding that the city will next summer put in a sewer system. The city attorney says that the council has agreed that a system must be put in. The sewer committee has agreed to be ready by Nov. 1 to let a contract to an engineer to prepare plans and specifications for a sewer system. If that is done work on the sewer could be begun early next spring.

Frightened by Frogs.

It is said to be owed to the frogs of Western Australia that that part of the empire is English and not French. About 1800 a party of prospective French colonists landed on the west coast of Australia, but on the first morning they were alarmed by the loud croaking of the frogs, which they took for demons and retired with all speed to their ships. Western Australia might have preferred the frog to the swan as her emblem, just as Rome might have preferred, instead of the eagle, the goose that saved the capital.

The Sort of Thing He Liked.

In an early day in Stone county, Mo., a farmer's boy rushed into the office of Dr. T. J. McCord of Galena and urged the doctor to come quickly to see his father, who seemed to be dying. Said the doctor, "What ails him, and what has he eaten?"

The boy said, "Oh, nothing much but fourteen rosin' ears for supper." "Well," said the doctor, "just go back and throw him in a couple of bundles of oats and tell him I will be up there in about thirty minutes."—Judge's Liberator.

NOTE TO PARENTS

This statement is made because many parents wish to know and all parents should know what is expected of children at home in order that they may succeed with their school work. It is rendered the more necessary to parents of High School pupils because of the higher standard for High Schools, set by the last session of our state legislature. In order to earn the thirty-two credits entitling the pupil to his diploma, he needs to do regular, careful work under favorable conditions.

Home Study for Grade Pupils.

Pupils of grades one to four inclusive, are not expected to study much at home. Pupils of grades five and six, unless physically weak, should prepare some lesson at home, requiring twenty-five to forty minutes' study. All pupils of grades seven and eight are expected to prepare at least one lesson at home, needing from forty to sixty minutes' work.

The foregoing does not include spelling, for every grade pupil above the second, should get the spelling lesson outside of school where he may study aloud.

It will be very much better for pupils to study lessons at home requiring exercise of the memory, such as tables of arithmetic, geography, history and spelling. They will be very much better prepared for their future progress in school, if they prepare grammar and arithmetic lessons at school.

Home Study for H. S. Pupils.

High School pupils have but three periods of forty minutes each at school in which to prepare four lessons requiring an average of about fifty minutes' study. That is, the school's study periods afford less than three-fourths' enough time for the preparation of lessons. Hence, it is evident that the High School pupil with the regular four studies, needs to prepare, at least, one of his assignments at home. This, too, should be his most difficult lesson, and should steadily employ the pupil from one to two hours. Many pupils will have to get two assignments at home.

Favorable Conditions.

Parents can do very much to encourage home study. Good light, a quiet place, words of encouragement, of approval, or of reproof, as may suit the occasion, will count for very much. Best of all, have a regular time for the home study.

The social functions of pupils, much as it affects results at school, is a matter for parental guidance. Will you permit this suggestion? Since mid-week parties are held at the expense of more than a fourth of the next day's school work, it is recommended that parental influence and authority seek to have such functions as may be thought best held at all, held after the school week has closed.

The period following 3:30 p. m., has no recitations of regular classes. It is set apart for the pupils needing help. All pupils needing assistance have a right to this reserved period. In the High School the burden rests with the pupil. The teacher is not to compel the needy pupil to remain for work. In her kindness she may warn him. The school is too full, and the teachers' work already too heavy to lavish energy on unwilling workers.

Parents and pupils are solicited to ask questions concerning the schools, of the superintendent, the principals and the teachers. The better the understanding between co-workers the better the results.

Next Friday or Monday copies of the new manual of the schools will be sent by the pupils to all families represented in the high school. Ask your boy or girl for this book. It will answer many of your questions.

H. G. Woody, Supt.

DePAUW NOTES

Manager Carpenter states that the special will leave for Bloomington at twelve-thirty Saturday.

Y. M. C. A. meets this evening in Plato Hall.

The great student temperance rally is slated for 6:30 Friday evening.

Indiana is either in bad shape for the DePauw-Indiana game to be played Saturday or they are badly frightened about the result for they are sending out bear stories every day. Today it is reported by Bloomington reporters that not only is Hoover, the big guard, laid off for some time, but also that Paddock and Johnson the star ends are laid off for a week on account of injuries received in scrimmages. These may be only bear stories, but if they are, they prove that Indiana is slightly worried over the results of the game.

BENEFITS IN DISEASE.

Typhoid, if You Pull Through, Gives You a New Stomach.

GOOD EVEN IN RHEUMATISM.

That Painful Affliction Keeps Other Miseries Out of the System and is a Promoter of Long Life—Blessings of Colds and Smallpox.

To be struck down by disease seems a most undesirable thing yet there are many living today in the fullest enjoyment of very excellent health who but for an attack of some disease would have lived a life of almost perpetual misery.

These people were, first of all, victims of indigestion in its worst form, and only those who have experienced it know what true indigestion is. Struck down by typhoid fever, they came through the trying ordeal cured of indigestion, for one outstanding eccentricity of typhoid is that if you pass through an attack safely it gives you a new stomach. In fact, after an attack of typhoid the victim is usually left with a stomach like an infant.

That is the grand chance offered to one who has suffered. It may be, for long years from acute indigestion. If only he takes care, after an attack of typhoid he need never know indigestion again.

Be it remembered that any one troubled with severe indigestion is not advised to go hunting around for typhoid fever. That might prove to be a disastrous course to follow.

A chronic cold is just one of those things which none of us want, yet even a chronic cold has its good points, more especially if you happen to be up in years a bit—not too old, of course. People who are up in years and who suffer from chronic bronchitis seem to get remarkably well. It keeps the blood in good circulation, for, of course, the victims have to cough, and that gives the heart a jerk and sends the blood coursing nicely through the veins and arteries.

If the cold be not too acute, old people derive considerable benefit. An acute attack, on the other hand, may cut off an old person in a day or two. It is the chronic type only which yields benefit.

Smallpox is a dreaded scourge, so much so that if it be reported that a case exists in a neighborhood a thrill passes through the whole community.

Yet those who suffer from smallpox and recover usually live to a green old age. It seems to renew life in some mysterious way by thoroughly purifying the blood.

If, however, you desire to attain to a ripe old age, you cannot get on at all without rheumatism. Consider the hosts of old folks you encounter hobbling about, grumbling all the day about their bones and joints. In all probability these old people would have been in their graves years before but for this very rheumatism.

The reason is that if rheumatism is in the system it keeps other ills out. It makes a grand fighting force and keeps most other enemies of the human frame at bay, especially those of the germ type.

Very naturally if you have such a grand friend at hand you have to pay something for him rendered, but the pain of rheumatism, if shockingly severe at times, is not deadly, and that is why one gets so little sympathy when suffering from rheumatism.

But the plain fact is that a slight malady always benefits you, even if indirectly. As an example of that, say a very bad spell of weather comes along, cold and wet, and you contract a slight chill.

What do you propose to do? Why, to take the greatest care of yourself and make as certain as possible that your cold gets no chance of developing into anything worse. Now, did that very slight cold not make its appearance and cause you to be extremely careful of what you did there is no saying what might happen to you any day during a spell of evil, cold weather. You might have exposed yourself so much that a severe chill would have seized you, followed by inflammation of the lungs.

Accordingly a slight cold may easily save you from many worse ills.

In this way minor afflictions act as warnings that worse things are coming along, but unfortunately many persons quite neglect these warnings. A man, for example, has indigestion more or less constantly, yet pays little heed, always expecting that it will disappear one day. Now, if he had just paid attention to the matter at the beginning—heeded the warning, in short—he might not have been let in for a severe liver attack later on.

Every pain, every ache, every headache—all these are warnings that something else is on the way and will be along shortly.—Pearson's Weekly.

An Idea of Business.

"Does your titled son-in-law know anything about business?"

"Well," answered Mr. Cumrox doubtfully, "he has had a lot of experience with promissory notes, and he knows how to get a check raised."—Washington Star.

The Lightweight Champion.

Simkins—You say that little man was formerly the lightweight champion? Timkins—Yes. Simkins—How did he lose the title? Timkins—Oh, he didn't lose it. He merely sold his grocery and retired.—Chicago News.

To feign a virtue is to have its opposite vice.—Hawthorne.
